Hi, Peter. Really enjoyed lunch with you & Matt! With things heating up in Ukraine I just thought I'd check to make sure we're still good to go on my tagging along with you when you guys fly down to your Kiwi bolthole after the SHTF. I've got my bug out bag & radiation detector ready to go. Should I bring extra TP?—Cheers, Sam

Aloha, Joe! Just wanted to see how my new vacation home at Koolau Ranch is coming along. Priscilla is bugging me about the huge cost overruns & all the leaks to the press. I mean, for $100 million, you'd think the NDRs would be airtight, but the goddamn coconut wireless is working overtime! Heck, now they've got me building some "vast, underground city" LOL instead of just a little 5,000 sq ft underground bunker. BTW, I've been reading some of the gossip on Reddit about what the rabble are planning to do after TEOTWAWKI, and it reminded me to ask you if we could add another couple of escape hatches and maybe a few of those robot killer dogs I saw on YouTube. Also, is there is anything we could do about people pouring diesel oil and cement down the air intake vents?—Mahalo, Mark

P.S. Please ignore all that silly nonsense about medieval rulers who had the architects and contractors of their palaces murdered in order to protect their design secrets.

WTF, Jim! Why the hell didn't you tell me that houses in Florida don't have basements? Jesus Christ, I just dropped $147 million on two of your luxury properties and now I'm being told that I can't build underground doomsday bunkers under them! I'll bet you didn't forget to tell Tom Brady, Ivanka Trump, or Jeff Bezos that, you scumbag! I hope your own bunker gets flooded out and you drown in the next hurricane!!!

Howdy, folks! Been perusing your website and I must say your doomsday glamping bunkers in South Dakota are to die for LOL. Especially love the gym, I have to keep in shape so I can keep doing crazy dangerous stunts in my movies after the apocalypse. I was all ready to break into my sock drawer for some petty cash to buy a few to go with my $10 million bunker in Telluride when I decided to check the location out on Google. WTF? How the name of Xenu can you say you're located in "one of the safest areas of North America?" It's smack in the middle of all three U.S. ICBM fields! The fallout is going to be massive!! What's the point of riding out TEOTWAWKI in an expensive tomb? I'm a Scientologist, so trust me, I know bullshit when I see it.— See ya, Tom Goddammit, I should have known that something was fishy dealing with a guy named Ron Hubbard! I'll bet you're related to that Scientology fraud, aren't you?

I've got half a mind to fly down to Texas and bind and gag you like those burglars did to me back in 2016! Look, all I asked for was for my walk-in closet to be converted into a panic room like that Goop bitch Gwyneth Paltrow has in the West Village! But I come back from Hollywood and what is all this shit in my closet now? I get the HVAC, peanut butter, tuna fish & water etc. but don't you think the $50,000 blastproof doors are a little overkill, no pun intended? And with all these batteries, generators and water tanks, where am I supposed to store my Hermes & Gucci & my 300 Birkin bags? You get your boys back here now and fix all this shit! Remember, bitch: IMAHANH— If Momma Ain't Happy, Ain't Nobody Happy!

As you may have heard, the McMansions in my neighborhood have been getting hit by the Free Shit Army lately, not to mention it looks like the world is on the brink of WW3, so it's got me thinking I should maybe pick up a couple of your firearms for protection. I was thinking maybe a semiautomatic AR-15 and a couple of Glockes, but I don't really know a whole lot about guns. What would you recommend?— Warm regards, Alec

Are you nuts? Do you think I don't read the newspapers?—"I didn't know it was loaded," my ass! Try getting some professional training in how to use a gun, you moron! It's half-assed prepper clowns like you that give us the rest of us gun owners a bad name. I wouldn't sell you so much as a BB-gun if your miserable life depended on it, you racist, homophobic, misogynist asshole!— Shaniqua Rosebottom, owner, LA Gun Shop
P.S. Your movies suck, too!!! ■
